My Life as a Man is Geddy Aniksdals lively autobiographical excursion. From workingclass childhood and youth, from own work experiences at a sewing factory in Bergen to street theatre activities and women's lib in the capital Oslo.

Then a theatre workshop is announced in the remote Porsgrunn, Geddy is admitted and travels south. A travel that has major consequences...

Norwegian Geddy Aniksdal has worked in Grenland Friteater since 1981. She is actor, director, pedagogue. She is also the artistic director of the crosscultural citydevelopment project Sense of Place.

Geddy has been a member of The Magdalena Project since the beginning and has toured her soloperformances worldwide. Geddy has visited the country once before during Magdalena Aotearoa.
